

EcoVadis is the world's most trusted provider of business sustainability ratings, intelligence and collaborative performance improvement tools for global supply chains.

EcoVadis' sustainability scorecards provide detailed insight into environmental, social and ethical risks across various purchasing categories and many countries.

EcoVadis has already evaluated thousands of business partners around the world. In this way, the risks of some of the world's largest companies have been reduced while making a positive contribution to the environment, promoting transparency and driving innovation.

Each company is evaluated on issues related to its size, location and industry.

Signer Titanium AG was evaluated for the first time by EcoVadis in February 2020 and immediately achieved the 63rd percentile rank. The good result is rewarded with a bronze medal.
